2. North Korea probably got their Uranium and Nuke-bomb tech from the US through Iran, courtesy of Obama and Hillary. But where did they get their rocket know-how?

3. I'll start with Space X. SpaceX began in 2002 and grew MAGICALLY into the ONLY successful private/commercial low-earth space vehicle delivery company.

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/History_o...

4. It's only real competition when the Obama shut down NASA's Shuttle program in 2011, was Orbital Sciences, but they faded out after too many failures.

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Orbital_S...

5. Both SpaceX and Orbital Sciences built their rockets from scratch, NASA did not give them the tech. NASA did NOT want to lose its shuttle program. SpaceX owns its missile tech, not NASA or the USG.

But NASA's savings in cost and time could be significant.

The two leading contractors are building their launch vehicles from scratch. Their designs emphasize very efficient business models and low manufacturing costs. And they operate with at most a few dozen employees at their launch sites, as opposed to the space shuttle program's standing army of almost 15,000 workers.

NASA's hostility toward other American space ventures goes back at least to the early 1990s, when Lockheed Martin developed the DC-X suborbital experimental rocket, financed by the Pentagon's Strategic Defense Initiative Organization (SDIO).

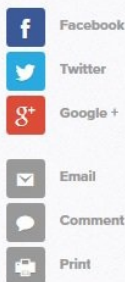

6. SpaceX successfully delivered goods to the ISS, and seeking to be profitable, sought additional launch contracts. Namely with the US Department of Defense.

7. The DoD had an ongoing contract for space launch capability with a joint venture company comprised of established, natural competitors; Boeing and Lockheed called "United Launch Alliance" (ULA).

Comment
Print

The entrenched contractor, a joint operation of Boeing and Lockheed Martin called the United Launch Alliance, has conducted 106 space launches all but flawlessly, but the cost for each is more than $350 million, according to the Government Accountability Office. SpaceX promises launches for less than $100 million.

8. Enter Globalist Senator John McCain. Musk broke ULA's monopoly on DoD launches by taking them to court, and with HELP from McCain, who also invoked assistance of the puppet SECDEF (Carter).

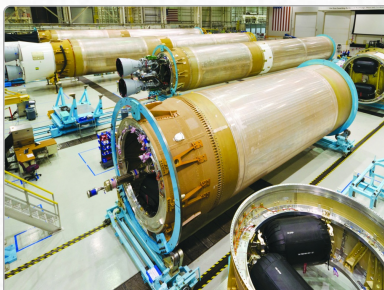

McCain has described ULA's behavior as "manipulative extortion" and now thinks ULA never should have been created in the first place.

"Of course," McCain said in a brief interview when asked if the government's role in creating ULA was a mistake. "But Congress is guilty in that respect, too."

McCain asked Defense Secretary Ash Carter to investigate Tobey's remarks, and soon after, the Pentagon's inspector general opened an investigation into the possibility that the Pentagon rigged the bidding to favor ULA.

ULA has vigorously defended itself, and continues to tout its service. Bruno has said that record of consistency should count for something in bidding battles against SpaceX, and that the layoffs ULA announced in April are part of a bid to become more competitive. Representatives for SpaceX declined to comment on the record for this article.

9. The entrance of McCain into SpaceX is key for two reasons; globalist clubs, and SAUDIS. Hold on to the Saudis.

SpaceX, U.S. Air Force To Enter Mediation over ULA Block Buy

SpaceX and the U.S. Air Force will enter mediation to try to resolve a lawsuit over the service's deal to buy rockets on a sole-source basis from ULA.

<http://spacenews.com/spacex-u-s-air-force-to-enter-mediation-over-ula-blockbuy/>

10. The SpaceX v. ULA court decisions are sealed; we don't know what deals were made. We DO KNOW that SpaceX became certified to handle NATIONAL SECURITY products afterwards.

How Elon Musk exposed billions in questionable Pentagon spending

Ten years after ULA was born, the FTC's direst warnings have come true, along with outcomes even the skeptics did not predict.

<https://www.politico.com/story/2016/05/elon-musk-rocket-defense-223161>

11. We also know that ULA was out of the game. ULA did not bid on DoD launches past the expiration of its current contract with the DoD. Weird, right? Wonder what happened.

12. Quick recap:

2011 Obama cancels NASA's Shuttle Program, SpaceX funded (in part) by US grants.
2015 McCain helps SpaceX get DoD access and ULA is removed from the program entirely.

13. SpaceX is a private company, which means we can't see their books. We also can't see their investors or how much control each investor has. It's also why SpaceX owns its missile tech.

14. Original SpaceX investors: Wikipedia lists Peter Thiel as a SpaceX investor (Founders Fund). Thiel created Palantir, which is a turbo-datamining/processing-tech on meth. It mines anything digital. ANYTHING.

15. Thiel and Musk also created PayPal together.

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/PayPal_Ma...

16. The CIA invested $2M in Thiel's Palantir via InQTel (CIA's VC arm), Palantir is used by almost all US intel agencies. Amazing how tech companies doomed for bankruptcy somehow become successful overnight! Palantir, Facebook, Amazon, and SpaceX all have this in common.

History [edit]

2003–2008: Founding and early years [edit]

Though usually listed as having been founded in 2004, SEC filings state Palantir's official incorporation to be in May 2003 by Peter Thiel (co-founder of PayPal), who named the start-up after the "seeing stone" in Tolkien's legendarium.^[5] Thiel saw Palantir as a "mission-oriented company" which could apply software similar to PayPal's fraud recognition systems to "reduce terrorism while preserving civil liberties."^[8]

In 2004, Thiel bankrolled the creation of a prototype by PayPal engineer Nathan Gettings and Stanford University students Joe Lonsdale and Stephen Cohen. That same year, Thiel hired Alex Karp, a former colleague of his from Stanford Law School, as chief executive officer.^{[9][10]}

Headquartered in Palo Alto, California, the company initially struggled to find investors. According to Karp, Sequoia Capital chairman Michael Moritz doodled through an entire meeting, and a Kleiner Perkins Caufield & Byers executive lectured the founders about the inevitable failure of their company.^[11] The only early investments were $2 million from the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency's venture capital arm In-Q-Tel, and $30 million from Thiel himself and his venture capital firm, Founders Fund.^{[3][4][12][13][14]}

Palantir developed its technology by computer scientists and analysts from intelligence agencies over three years, through pilots facilitated by In-Q-Tel.^{[15][9]} The company stated computers alone using artificial intelligence could not defeat an adaptive adversary. Instead, Palantir proposed using human analysts to explore data from many sources, called intelligence augmentation.^[16]

17. Nov 2017, another early SpaceX investor, Steve Jurvetson (Draper Fisher Jurvetson) was forced to leave his VC firm amid sexual deviancy allegations...So hot right now.

Venture capitalist Steve Jurvetson is out at DFJ

Jurvetson is leaving the VC firm amid an investigation over sexual harassment allegations.

<https://www.axios.com/dfj-co-founder-steve-jurvetson-is-out-2509167810.html>

Well, Howard Stern was doing a live broadcast from the mansion, and they invited some folks to have dinner and a swim in the grotto. Smashmouth and Rod Stewart did a few songs. Why I got invited must have been some marketing mistake. The only retrospective rationalization I can come up with is that I had said some nice things about the impact we had witnessed in some companies that advertised on the Howard Stern program... and that got quoted in the WSJ.... And that led to the envoy of Crackhead Bob and Hank the Angry Drunken Dwarf

19. The reason I ask about the Playboy Mansion? It would explain why he resigned (see embedded thread) and it also dovetails into the final SpaceX investor I want to highlight: Rizvi Traverse (again).

@colemanbracken

1. What do Hugh Hefner, Pam Anderson and Julian Assange have to do with the takedown of the Hollywood sexual predators?

20. It's impossible to figure out how much of SpaceX is owned by Rizvi Traverse. Rizvi literally pays people to erase himself and his business from the internet. All I can say is that Rizvi holds some portion of SpaceX.

Yesterday's amended IPO documents brought more news than continued unprofitability: Ev Williams isn't going to be Twitter's biggest billion dollar success story anymore. That honor now belongs to Suhail Rizvi, a reclusive Hollywood insider and Wall Street financier who deletes his existence from the internet.

Twitter: Still Losing Even More Money

Twitter tossed out a little update to its pre-IPO disclosures, and the soon-to-be-public company is ...

21. Rizvi invested Billionaire Saudi Prince Al-Waleed bin Talal's money in Playboy, and it is probable that he invested Talal's money in SpaceX too. Why? Because like the Playboy Mansion, what SpaceX has is EXTREMELY VALUABLE.

rizvitraverse.com/portfolio/

22. Refresher: bin Talal is the Saudi dirty-money-man. He was arrested in KSA with 30+ other princes on corruption charges. Last we heard about him, he was hanging from his feet being beaten by American mercenaries in Riyadh, KSA.

23. Bin Talal donated MILLIONS to the Clintons (campaign & Orgs) and to the John McStain Institute. Talal paid for Obama's Harvard Education, and he owns the top floors of Mandalay Bay.

24. Finally Google. Google invested $1B in SpaceX in early 2016. In-fact, just a few months after Obama's Iran-Nuke Deal.

Why Did Google Invest $1 Billion in SpaceX? @thetotleyfool #stoc...

The company's space aspirations may be bigger than it's letting on.

<https://www.fool.com/investing/general/2016/02/14/why-did-google-invest-1-billio...>

25. Iran-Nuke deal refresher: Jan 2016 Obama sent $1.8B cash to Iran in unmarked planes, and sent 10 tons of Iran's enriched uranium to ... ??? Both probably went to North Korea. Details here:

26. Back to Google. Articles say that Google bought about 10% of SpaceX. Again we can't see if that's a controlling share or not. SpaceX became exempt from reporting securities information in 2009 under exemption 506(b).

sec.gov/cgi-bin/browse...

27. Recap: SpaceX's shady political influence (McCain and Obama's SECDEF) + shady investors (CIA-Theil, Playboy Mansion- Jurvetson, Corrupt Saudi-Talal, Globalist-Schmidt/Google) = magical success

28. I struggled with Elon Musk. There are plenty of new theories and MEMEs floating around about him personally helping NK with ICBMs; but I'm not sold on it for several reasons. It is possible, but not probable IMO.

29. Elon has 6 kids and he seems to do actual good work. He is hell-bent on making stuff happen. He does have the mark of "the chosen" though, and his companies survive on government grants, that all makes him suspect of corruption.

30. A scrub of Wikileaks shows that he Elon was not sought after by the Globalists. A John Podesta email shows Elon as a 3rd-rate attendee choice for a major Democrat Green event (fund raiser)...he didn't attend

33. Moving back to SpaceX investors: CIA friend, Playboy Mansion dude, Rizvi/upside-down prince bin Talal, and GOOGLE's Eric Schmidt.

34. Eric Schmidt, as many of you know, resigned from Alphabet Inc. on 21 Dec 2017, after 16 years at Google. Weird to suddenly "step-down"...timing?

Eric Schmidt to Step Down as Alphabet's Executive Chairman

Mr. Schmidt, who has been in a top position at Google and then its parent company, Alphabet, since 2001, will become a technical adviser to the company.

<https://www.nytimes.com/2017/12/21/technology/eric-schmidt-google-alphabet.html>

35. "Coincidentally", @POTUS signed an Executive Order (EO) to stifle foreign abusers of human rights and corruption THE SAME DAY.

<https://www.whitehouse.gov/presidential-actions/executive-order-blocking-proper...>

36. This EO targets FOREIGN people, orgs, or entities who violate human rights (think trafficking) AND/OR who are CORRUPT. It directs the US Treasury to freeze their assets. Think about that for a minute.

That's a BROAD, sweeping edict.

37. Funny, EO-identified target #5, Yahya Jammeh, is a buddy of Obamas.

38. 12 of 14 of the EO-targeted persons are directly or indirectly tied to the Clintons.

39. But wait, there's more! The EO directs the Treasury to freeze assets of ANY PERSON who did "bidness" with those foreigners (think bin Talal and the KSA takedown, North Korea, Haiti, etc.). ANY PERSON.

(D) to have attempted to engage in any of the activities described in subsections (ii)(A), (ii)(B)(1), or (ii)(B)(2) of this section; and

(iii) any person determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Attorney General:

(A) to have materially assisted, sponsored, or provided financial, material, or technological support for, or goods or services to or in support of:

40. So the EO is published early 21 Dec, hours later Eric Schmidt of Google "steps down".

41. Let's take a look at Eric Schmidt. This whole time I thought he was just a nerdy, California Silicon Valley tech douche...and he is...but there's more to this douche than meets the eye.

Bill doesn't think Eric has thought through the trip but will be making a donation to an international food entity and announce such while they are in NK. Eric, of course, hopes someday to have the NK market but not point of this visit. Bill has been told highest level they will see will be Kim Gae Gwan. He said he needs to do this because basis of funding for his foundation that 'supports my work with bad guys.' At any rate, I think we should consider a call to Eric Schmidt and to Jared. I also think if we can't turn this off (not even sure a WH call would do it), we should consider preemptive press statement. Bill had already gotten a call from ROK (don't know who) and that had not zerohedge.com/news/2017-03-2...

63. None of this PROVES that Eric Schmidt, Hillary and Bill Clinton, Obama, and the Globalist Agenda gave North Korea nukes, uranium, and ICMB tech.

BUT, it does prove the RATLINES to North Korea exist.

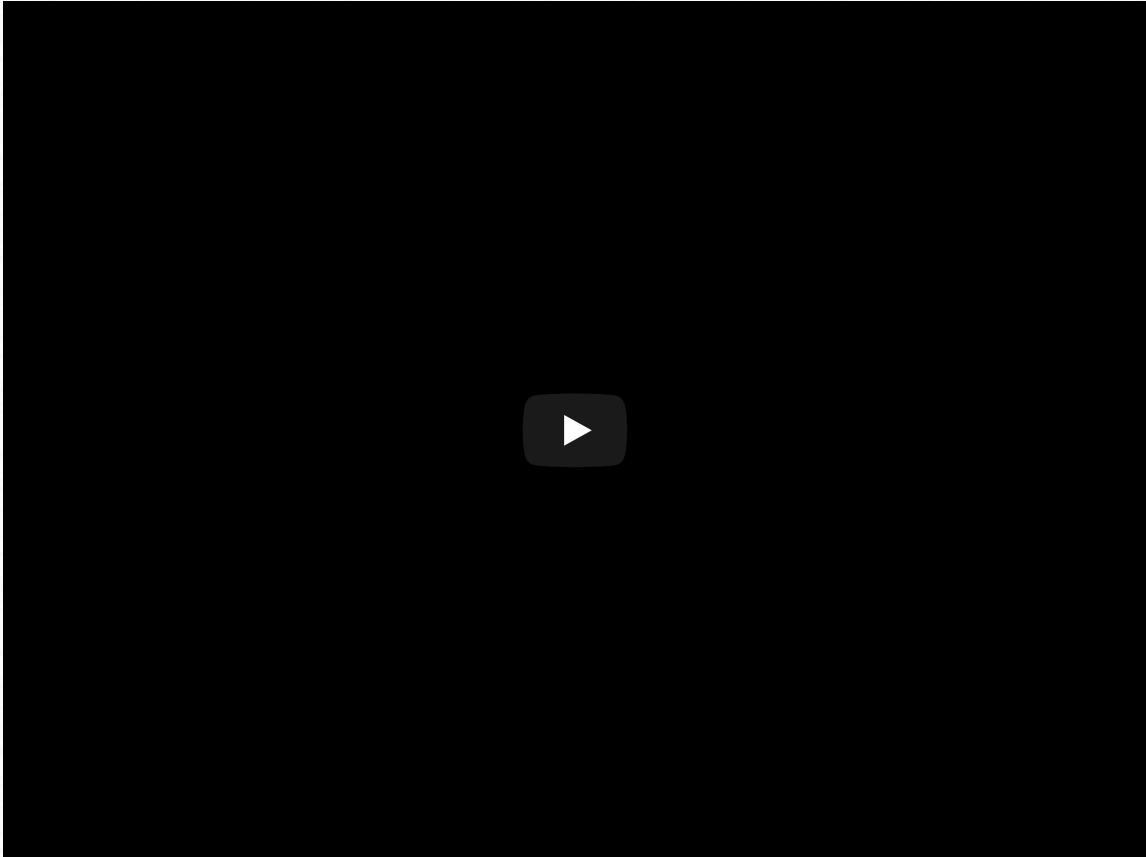

64. The RAT LINES prove the ABILITY and circumstantial-evidence for capability to transfer tech, money, and uranium to North Korea. Motive? World War III?

65. Why WWII? Who profits from war? Those in power do. War creates FOG and FRICTION. Ground forces are barely able to figure out what is going on, how the crap would the rest of the world know?

66. War fog opens up resources, influence, and war profits. Henry Ford, Prescott Bush, Rockefeller, etc. all profited from the US/Allies AND NAZI Germany (Google it). No longer are borders openly re-drawn, only hidden influence and profits are.

67. Bush and his cronies all profited from Iraq and Afghanistan. And still are!
I could write a thread on war footing/profit by itself, but its Christmas and a body of work already exists on it.
